

Formal Appeal for Transparency and Independent Review

We respectfully submit this letter as a formal and good-faith request for the voluntary release of all Non-Disclosure Agreements (NDAs) signed by former employees and associates of Lifestyle Christianity and Lifestyle Christianity University. Additionally, we request the initiation of an independent third-party investigation. We believe that transparency is essential for healing, accountability, and restoration within the Body of Christ.

In light of the publicly circulated letter outlining 25 serious allegations, released by Mike Winger, we affirm the importance of a thorough investigation into these claims. While not every individual has personally witnessed every allegation, there is collective affirmation that the behaviors described reflect patterns personally observed by many of the undersigned. This widespread corroboration highlights the urgent need for an independent third-party investigation. We also believe it is important to affirm the biblical standard that every allegation should be supported by two or more witnesses. A thorough investigation will help determine whether that standard has been met.

To ensure impartiality and fairness, we recommend GRACE (Godly Response to Abuse in the Christian Environment) as a potential and reputable investigative body. GRACE is widely respected for conducting confidential, compassionate, and independent investigations within Christian contexts. "BibleThinker" has offered to fully fund such an investigation, so there is no financial barrier to its undertaking.

We urge Lifestyle Christianity/Todd White to respond to this appeal as an opportunity to demonstrate a Christ-centered commitment to truth, transparency, and healing for the sake of both current and future members of the community.
